ACQUAPARETE

BLOWN GLASS, CHROMED METAL

◀ 1

"Beauty is simply the unveiling of a fallen shadow and the light which has come out of it".
(Alda Merini, Body of Love, 2001)

Acquaparete is the wall version of the suspended lamp Acquatinta, which transcends from the same figurative themes. The diffusers are made of hand blown Murano glass.

Such artisan workmanship renders this piece unique. Acquaparete is a moveable lamp, the diffuser may be rotated 180° from top to bottom. The glass globe is held by a metal arm. The various positions and possible finishes allow a choice of direct or indirect light.
